Think

before you act!

This material is intended to be attached to suppliers' orientation material for Fingrid worksites and work locations. The aim is for suppliers to go through the material as part of the orientation for employees.

The aim is to instil a Think Before You Act mindset in everyone working on Fingrid worksites.

FINGRID

Think before you act!

Is the working method safe, and has it been understood correctly?

Have the necessary plans been made? Have the appropriate permits been obtained to do the work?

Have the risks of the work been assessed?

Have we received the necessary training and orientation? For example, worksite orientation and work phase kick-off meeting.

Do we know what to do if changes occur? For example, when the work cannot be done according to the original plan?

Think before you act!

Significant hazards on Fingrid worksites

Examine the work location from a few steps back, and think for two minutes before you act!

Identify hazards – Assess risks – Take the necessary measures
