mFRR capacity market webinar Q&A

Q&A

FINGRID

Q&A

Why resting time bid attribute is not in use in Finland? Is this coming to use in the future?
- The Resting Time attribute is added to the NMMS platform primarly for Statnett request. Finnish national terms & conditions in mFRR market does not support the Resting Time attribute. If BSP's find Resting Time attribute as something usefull for the market, Fingrid can start work regarding implementing this attribute to the national T&C.

Can a bid be deleted from the NMMS platform?
- Yes, by deleting all information from the bid row. This way the bid itself is deleted, but the information remains on the platform with a grey overlay stating this bid is no longer valid

Is the Market Trial test period run in the Fifty test environment (AT) while 22.10. is the first day that is actually run on the production environment?
- Market trial is run on AT, test environment. Golive date refers to first date that will have trades in mFRR capacity market, meaning the first market results will be published from the production environment 21.10. mornign

FINGRID

Q&A

In what situation and how often cross zonal capacity is allocated from other markets?
- Cross zonal capacity can be allcoated to aFRR capacity market, day-ahead market and intra-day market and in the future to mFRR capacity market. The NMMS algorithm estimates the price for cross zonal capacity, and then the capacity will be allocated to different markets by the best total socio economical way. aFRR and mFRR capacity markets can be allocated a joint maximum amount of 10% of the CZC from FI to SE1 and 5% from SE1 to FI.

Is cross zonal capacity allocation allways done if the CZC price is lower than mFRR CM price?
- Previos answer

Does the linked aFRR and mFRR capacity market bids have to have the exact same price on both bids?
- No

Is it so that first bids for mFRR CM in production environment will be submitted on 22.10. for 23.10. or are the bids submitted on 21.10. for 22.10?
- 21.10. is the first date when the market is run on the production environment. Market is run for 22.10. and GOT is 14.10. and GCT at 08:30 EET/EEST 21.10.

FINGRID